RE: Acceptance of NCP offer

Dear Rev. Bromhead and Ms. Bruton,

The Leadership Council met last week and discussed your letter of April 25. Members expressed appreciation for your positive response to the disaffiliation terms that have been discussed in prior meetings.

The next step will be for us to prepare a draft term sheet that includes all of the detail necessary to drafting the formal disaffiliation agreement between CPC and NCP. Toward this end, the Leadership Council discussed and identified some remaining details for the term sheet, including payment frequency (monthly vs. quarterly), ensuring payment timeliness, deciding how the payments will be invested in mission activities, obtaining adequate security for the seven-year payment term, and determining who should draft the term sheet and disaffiliation agreement.

Understanding your desire to move ahead with the advisory vote, the Leadership Council authorizes Centreville to conduct an advisory vote, notwithstanding that the NCP and CPC have not agreed on all of the terms. Should you wish to proceed to a vote now, please let me know and I will direct the Centreville discernment team to begin the process. If you would prefer to defer the advisory vote until the terms are complete and fully agreed, we will move ahead with the term sheet and disaffiliation agreement as quickly as we can.

We hope to have a draft term sheet to you shortly, and appreciate your patience in the meantime.

Best regards,

Rudy Cohen, Jr.
Chair, NCP Leadership Council
